ADDRESS CORRECTION REQUESTED RUSH — TIME DATED

Five members of Teens 'n Theater, UCSF's prize-winning family life theater company, went to Alaska for 10 days in early April for a tour of the state and to perform before teen and adult groups at high schools and churches in Anchorage and Bethel. They also made an appearance on local television.

The theater company's skits about communication with peers and parents are particularly relevant to Alaskan youth. "Teen alcohol abuse is a significant problem in the state, as is the need for open communication about teen-age sexuality," says Terry Looper, MPH, who with Richard Woo produces Teens 'n Theater.

Teens 'n Theater, now in its fourth season, is affiliated with UCSF's Teen Family Planning Project at SFGH. Its 20 teen members are drawn from SF high schools and represent a variety of racial and ethnic backgrounds.

DEADLINE

Deadline for the next issue of Today & Tomorrow, covering the time period May 5-18, will be Tuesday, Apr. 24, 11 a.m. Please send your copy to Allen Balderson, News & Public Information Services, 532 Parnassus Ave., Rm. 300, x1541 or x2557.

UC President David P. Gardner will visit UCSF on Thursday, May 3, as the last part of his nine-UC campus tour, to meet with as many groups as possible representing every aspect of campus life.

Gardner will meet with Academic Senate Chair John Greenspan and campus senior officers from 9 to 10 a.m., and then attend a scientific presentation by Albert J. Hudspeth, professor, physiology; Robert Jaffe, professor and chair, ob/gyn and reproductive sciences; and Robert Langridge, professor, pharmaceutical chemistry, biochemistry and biophysics.

At 11 a.m. Gardner will meet with staff representatives and then attend a luncheon with students and a 1:30 p.m. meeting with department chairs, directors of all the campus organized research units, and Chancellor Krevans.

At 2:30 p.m. Vice President William Baker and Assistant Vice President Judith Woodard from the President's Office will meet with the campus' External Relations Group. Gardner will finish the day by addressing the entire San Francisco Division of the Academic Senate at 4 p.m. in Cole Hall. All members of the Senate and faculty are urged to attend.

Chancellor Krevans will host an invitational reception in the School of Nursing lobby from 5 to 6:30 p.m. with Academic Senate officers and committee chairs, clinical faculty representatives, department chairs and ORU directors, senior campus administrators, and the Chancellor's Council. Members of the ASUC, school officers and school elected representatives, staff representatives, Alumni Council, Campus Planning Committee and community representatives also will attend.

Members of the Staff Employee Council (SEC) have formed a new organization, called the "UCSF Council," to advise the Chancellor on matters of concern to all employees who are not represented by unions.

The UCSF Council is not a union. It does consider all unrepresented employees to be members, except for those employees with union elections pending. It will have four general membership meetings a year, on the third Tuesday of January, April, June and October. The Chancellor will be invited to at least one of these meetings.

In addition, the Council of UC Staff Assemblies (CUCSA) has a new name—the Systemwide Council. It consists of two staff employees from each of the nine UC campuses and meets six times a year to advise the President's Office on issues of concern to unrepresented staff. The UCSF delegates are Pati Kuziomko of Millberry Union Recreation and Paul Porter of Affirmative Action.

New UCSF Council officers and new Systemwide Council delegates will be elected at the UCSF Council meeting on Tuesday, June 19, from 2 to 4 p.m. in Room S 118. In addition, there will be monthly task force meetings investigating concerns of council members. For further information write to the UCSF Council, Box 210, Millberry Union, or call Paul Porter at x4752 or Carol Copperud at x2911.

John J. Sampson, MD, clinical professor of medicine, has been named the 1984 recipient of the Charlotte Baer Memorial Clinical Faculty Award.

Given annually to a member of the UCSF clinical faculty in recognition of outstanding service to the School of Medicine, the award will be presented Saturday, May 19, during the School of Medicine Annual Homecoming Banquet.

A member of the UCSF clinical faculty since 1924, Sampson also is a senior physician at Mount Zion Hospital and Medical Center, where he was formerly chief of staff. A '20 Harvard graduate and one of the world's leading cardiologists, Sampson was chief of the UCSF cardiac clinics from 1947 to 1974. He has been an attending physician at SFGH and has had a private practice in internal medicine and cardiovascular diseases since 1924.

Sampson is former president of the American Heart Association, the California Heart Association, and the Interamerican Congress of Cardiology, and has honorary membership in the Cardiology Society of Mexico.

Among his many honors are the AHA Gold Heart Award, membership in the Gold-Headed Cane Society and an honorary LLD from UC-Berkeley. Visiting professorships have been established in his honor both on this campus and at Mount Zion, and the California Heart Association has set up an annual John J. Sampson Award for Clinical Research.

The Charlotte Baer Memorial Clinical Faculty Award is in memory of Dr. Baer, a UCSF clinical faculty member for some 20 years, who died in 1973. A refugee from Hitler, she came to the U.S. in 1938 with two MD degrees and pursued another at UCSF, which she received in 1941.

UCSF will celebrate National Hospital Week from May 6 to 12. This year's theme, "We're the Caring Kind," emphasizes the qualities that make hospital personnel vital to the health of the community.

Buttons noting the theme will be distributed to all hospital staff, and each patient will receive a flower and greeting card. In addition, photos of hospital staff at work will be on display in the Medical Sciences lobby during the week.

National Hospital Week is sponsored each year by the American Hospital Association and its 6,300 member hospitals.

Another week-long celebration, called "Children and Hospitals' Week," was held on campus in late March. It included an open house in the Pediatrics Playroom on the sixth floor of Moffitt with face painting, "cast" art, and demonstrations on good dental care. The celebration was sponsored by the Department of Pediatrics and Nursing Administration, and coordinated by Child Life Services.

Heinz Wagner, MD, professor of orthopaedic surgery at the University of Erlangen, Nurnberg Medical School, Germany, will present the Fifth Annual Verne T. Inman Lectureship and the 19th Annual Leroy C. Abbott Orthopaedic Society Scientific Program on Thursday and Friday, May 10 and 11.

Wagner, who also is president of the German Orthopaedic Association and the 1987 president-elect of the SICOT Congress, will present the Inman Lecture entitled, "Leg Lengthening," on Thursday from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the Postgraduate Dental Auditorium, Room C 701, and the Abbott Lecture entitled, "Osteoarthrosis of the Knee," on Friday at 11 a.m. in Cole Hall.

Wagner also will present his views on various clinical presentations on both days.

The Inman/Abbott program is sponsored by the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery in recognition of two late departmental chairs. Verne T. Inman, who died in 1980, was internationally known for his work on human locomotion. He established UCSF's Biomechanics Laboratory in 1957, the first lab of its kind anywhere devoted to this discipline, and served as its director for the next 16 years. The Leroy C. Abbott Orthopaedic Society was founded in 1965 in honor of the first departmental chair, who served from 1939 to 1957.

CMA credit for 14 hours is available. For further information call x1166.

Otto Kernberg, MD, professor of psychiatry at Cornell University Medical College and medical director of New York Hospital at Cornell's Westchester Division, will present the last in a series of talks in the Grete Simpson Fund Visiting Lecture Series from Monday to Wednesday, April 30 to May 2:

- "Diagnosis and Clinical Management of Borderline Patients with Suicidal Potential." HSW 303. 2-3:30 p.m. Apr. 30.
- "Countertransference, Transference Regression and the Incapacity to Depend." LPPI Auditorium. 3:30-5 p.m. May 1.
- "Narcissistic Pathology: Typical and Atypical Cases." (Part of Psychiatry Grand Rounds.) HSW 301. 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. May 2.

Kernberg also will be a discussant at a case conference sponsored by the Center for the Study of Neuroses on Tuesday, May 1, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. in the LPPI Auditorium.

The series is free and open to all interested trainees, faculty, staff and professionals in the community. For further information contact chief resident Jeffrey Cohen, MD, at x77-305.

Dreams and symbolism, transference-countertransference, and the therapeutic process—three major topics common to the traditions of Sigmund Freud and Carl Gustav Jung—will be discussed at the "Freud-Jung Symposium: The Clinical Experience" on Saturday and Sunday, May 19 and 20, at the Holiday Inn Golden Gateway, S.F.

The contributions of Freud and Jung continue to shape and stimulate our thinking about psychotherapy. Using vignettes and examples from case material, pairs of speakers representing each school of thought will show how their current clinical practice reflects similarities and differences in the two approaches.

UCSF Department of Psychiatry faculty presenting talks include: Fariborz Amini, K.H. Blacker, Crittenden E. Brookes, Phyllis J. Cath, Mardi J. Horowitz, Howard I. Levene, Alan Z. Skolnikoff, Edward M. Weinshel, Joseph B. Wheelwright, and Leonard S. Zegans.

For registration information call x77-256 or x77-554.

There were two recent incidents during remodeling of laboratories in the Health Sciences Towers, in which fireproofing containing a small percentage of asbestos was accidentally dislodged from above the false ceiling.

The areas involved were some laboratories on the fourth floor of HSE and the 12th floor of HSW.

The campus Building Project Management Services worked through the weekend of April 14 to clean the exposed areas. During the process the campus Office of Environmental Health and Safety monitored the air and all the surfaces in both areas. At this writing, the fireproofing area above the ceiling of the 12th floor of HSW has been encapsulated. Even though reconstruction is going on, the ceiling areas on the fourth floor of HSE also are being encapsulated, and all other protective measures are being taken, according to Dr. Reynold F. Brown, EH&S.

A diagnostic and treatment service for those suffering from anxiety or stress is being offered by the Langley Porter Psychiatric Institute (LPPI).

The clinic staff, consisting of psychiatrists, clinical psychologists and psychiatric social workers, also treats patients who are suffering from a traumatic event.

People wishing treatment are given a comprehensive evaluation and then either are offered appropriate treatment at LPPI or are referred to other services.

Clinic patients also are part of a clinical research project on stress and anxiety. For further information contact Geri Krasner at the Stress and Anxiety Clinic, x77-513.

UCSF researchers at SFGH have begun clinical trials of genetically engineered gamma interferon in 18 patients suffering from Kaposi's sarcoma, a cancer associated with acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS). They shortly will begin testing the effects of genetically engineered interleukin-2 in AIDS patients. The researchers hope that both drugs may help bolster immune function in those suffering from the disease.

The gamma interferon trials are under the direction of Paul Volberding, MD, UCSF assistant professor of medicine and chief of oncology at SFGH. His co-investigator in the interleukin-2 trials is Constance Wofsy, MD, UCSF associate clinical professor of medicine and assistant chief of infectious diseases at SFGH.

"No one thinks that these drugs will cure AIDS," cautioned Volberding. "At best, they might act like insulin in diabetes, controlling symptoms without curing the underlying illness."

Gamma interferon is produced naturally in the body in small quantities by a type of white blood cells called T-lymphocytes. It appears to stimulate another type of white blood cells—macrophages—to kill invading organisms.

AIDS patients are known to have abnormally low levels of gamma interferon, said Volberding, so researchers hope that injections of the drug may improve their immune response.

A public hearing will be held on Friday, April 27, at 10 a.m. in Room 282 at City Hall to hear public comments on proposed parking meter increases on several streets surrounding UCSF.

If approved by the Board of Supervisors, UCSF staff and patients will be paying more for street parking beginning July or August of this year.

The streets involved will be the east side of Hillway Avenue, the south side of Irving Street from Arguello to Third Avenue, the last block of the east end of Kirkham Street, the north end of Parnassus Avenue from Hillpoint to Fourth Avenue and south to Fifth Avenue, and also a small section on the east side of Parnassus near Third Avenue.

The present parking meter rate is 20 cents per hour and 10 cents per half hour. The new rate will increase the cost to 50 cents per hour, 25 cents per half hour. For further information contact Nelson Wong, SF Department of Public Works, 558-3371.

Thirty graduate students will describe their research to the campus community on Graduate Research Day, Tuesday, April 24, from 2 to 6 p.m. in the Millberry Union gym. A reception for all graduate students, faculty, and staff involved in graduate education will follow the student presentations.

HONORS & AWARDS

Francis A. Sooy, chancellor emeritus & professor, otolaryngology: To assume presidency of the American Otological Society at the organization's annual meeting in May.

Albert R. Jonsen, professor, ethics, medicine & pediatrics: Was the McCreary Lecturer, School of Health Sciences, University of British Columbia, Jan. 26 & 27; and the Alpha Omega Alpha Professor, Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, Mar. 20-22.

Selna L. Kaplan, professor, pediatrics: Elected president-elect of the Pediatric Endocrine Society.

Robert Stern, associate professor, pathology: Awarded a Fulbright Senior Fellowship for a one-year study beginning Sept. 1984 at the Max Planck Institute for Biophysical Chemistry in Gottingen, Germany.

Carmen Carrillo, assistant clinical professor, psychiatry; director, Mission Mental Health Center: Honored by the Alameda County National Women's Political Caucus (NWPC) for her continued public service. Carrillo is a member of the Alameda County Board of Education.

Arne Beck, health psychology; Teresa Burgess, biochemistry; Martha Cyert, genetics; Constance Royden, neurosciences; and Laurene Wang, pharmaceutical chemistry: Received Chancellor's Graduate Research fellowships for the 1984-85 academic year. The fellowships are awarded for excellence in research and are limited to doctoral students who have been advanced to candidacy. Each nominee is selected on the basis of research accomplishments, prior academic achievement and potential for future contributions to the health sciences.

Alan K. Louie, postdoctoral scholar, LPPI: Winner of a Pfizer Medical Research Merit Award for research on opiate receptors. Louie's work was done in the laboratory of Horace Loh, departments of Psychiatry & Pharmacology.

Charles E. Becker, professor, medicine; chief, Division of Occupational Medicine, SFGH: Received the Bronze Key Award from the National Council on Alcoholism for "his research, teaching and public service in the field of alcoholism."

PUBLICATIONS

Marvin H. Sleisenger, professor & vice chair, medicine; chief, Medical Services, VAMC: Co-editor of Gastrointestinal Diseases: Pathophysiology, Diagnosis, Management (third edition, W.B. Saunders, Phila., 1983).

Sarah E. Archer, professor; Carole D. Kelly, visiting lecturer; and Sally Ann Bisch, doctoral candidate, all in the Department of Mental Health and Community Nursing, School of Nursing: Coauthors of Implementing Change in Communities: A Collaborative Process (C.V. Mosby, St. Louis, 1984).

APPOINTMENTS

Leona Hansen-Nealey: Appointed Hospitals and Clinics director of Volunteer Services. Prior to her appointment at UCSF, she was in charge of the gift and thrift shops and a program of 500 volunteers at O'Connor Hospital in San Jose. She is currently board president of Friends of Nursing at Stanford and a member of the Santa Clara Volunteer Center Board. As the new director, she will oversee a program that now has some 230 volunteers, including retirees, students, professionals, and people from all walks of life.

Dean Echenberg: Appointed the assistant medical director of the San Francisco Bureau of Communicable Disease Control, replacing Selma Dritz. Echenberg is a UCSF assistant clinical professor of epidemiology and international health, pediatrics, and the Bay Area Human Nutrition Center at SFGH. His wide experience includes work with infectious tropical diseases in Africa, Thailand and Vietnam.

Twenty-eight experts on the use of fluorides will update and critically review past and current fluoride agents and methods of application at a conference entitled, "Clinical Uses of Fluorides: A State-of-the-Art Conference on the Uses of Fluorides in Clinical Dentistry," on Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12, at the Holiday Inn Union Square, S.F.

With a glut of new fluoride products available, dentists and dental hygienists have become increasingly unclear as to which new agents being introduced are the most effective. The conference will attempt to clarify the existing confusion and provide answers to several controversies in all areas of fluoride use.

The conference, which is registered for 14 CE units, is sponsored by the UCSF School of Dentistry Department of Growth and Development and Postgraduate Dentistry, the USPHS, and the councils on Dental Research and Dental Therapeutics of the American Dental Association.

UCSF conference director is Stephen H.W. Wei, professor and chair, pediatric dentistry. Other UCSF faculty are: Robert Boyd, assistant professor, growth and development; Dean John C. Greene; and Ernest Newbrun, professor, oral biology, Department of Stomatology.

Course fee is $75. For registration information call x1101.
